AROUND THE CAPITOL

The Senate debated bills on the floor Tuesday morning before adjourning until Wednesday morning. The Senate sent two bills down to the Governor (HF 570 ASSAULTS ON PREGNANT WOMEN and HF 601 UTILITY RATE INCREASE NOTICES) and sent six bills over to the House. The Senate passed most of the bills unanimously but passed SF 386 COLLEGE SUPPORT ORDERS on a 34-15, with Senator Knox voting with the Republicans for the bill. The Senate amended the bill to allow courts to order someone who is guilty of reproductive fraud to pay for college as a support cost. Senator Webster, who managed the bill, said that the bill is about fairness and said that current college support orders are often an unfair burden on single parents. He said that the biggest beneficiaries of disputes over college support payments in divorce cases are attorneys. Senator Quirmbach, who opposed the bill, said that the current system does not require courts to order support and said that the bill will make it harder for teens to go onto community colleges and universities. Senator Boulton said that most parents are able to work out support payments in divorce cases and said that rather than eliminate payments, the Legislature should fix any problems in the current system. The Senate also approved HF 601 on a 42-7 vote, with seven Democrats voting against the bill. Senator Wahls said that the language of the bill is confusing but voted for the bill because he said it would help consumers.

The House approved 14 bills today, sending one down to the Governor (SF 445 BOARDS OF REVIEW) and thirteen back to the Senate. The House took a rare step in deferring on SF 443 SUPERVISOR ELECTIONS, after an amendment from Representative Deyoe to require counties with a Regent university to use Plan 3 (districts). Under the Senate bill, Johnson and Black Hawk counties were already required to switch to Plan 3. Story County, which was included under the original House bill, was added into the requirements for using Plan 3. Deyoe said that the change would led to better representation for parts of Story County outside of Ames and could help students elect a supervisor in an Ames district. Representative Wessel-Kroeschell said that the bill needlessly singled out Story County for extra costs. She said that if Plan 3 was good for larger counties, it ought to be used in all counties. She offered an amendment to require all counties to use Plan 3.

The House approved HF 615 HOME SCHOOL DIPLOMAS on a 62-32 vote. Representative Gustoff said that the bill is needed because of occasional situations where home-schooled children have not had their diplomas recognized. Democrats said that the bill added unnecessary language to the Code. The House passed HF 349 PROBATION DISCHARGE CREDITS on a 93-1 vote, after an amendment. Representative Holt said that he added the amendment due to concerns about the costs of the bill, estimated at $350,000 to set up the new system and $4.7 million for new full-time positions.

AROUND THE CAPITOL (CONTINUED)

Governor Reynolds joined with three other Midwestern governors in urging the EPA to allow year-round sales of E-15 under a waiver this summer. The EPA is proposing to delay implementation of a new rule lifting restrictions on E-10 and E-15 until April 2024. The governors wrote that the EPA should follow the precedent set in the summer of 2022, when limits on E-10 and E-15 sales were lifted, and lift those restrictions during the summer 2023 driving season. The governors wrote that the waiver is needed in order to reduce the price of gasoline this summer for drivers.

EPA LETTER FROM THE GOVERNOR

March 21, 2023
The Honorable Michael Regan
Administrator US Environmental Protection Agency
1200 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20460

Dear Administrator Regan,

We write today to thank you for proposing to grant our petition of April 28, 2022, that would allow year-round sales of E-15 in our states pursuant to Clean Air Act section 211(h)(5). However, we have concerns that because the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) missed its statutory deadline to promulgate our petition by more than 200 days, the agency is now proposing to delay implementation until April 28, 2024.

Postponing implementation of our petition could result in higher prices at the pump during the summer 2023 driving season, as consumers would lose access to lower-cost, cleaner-burning E-15. In light of this, we ask that EPA use its authority under Clean Air Act section 211(c)(4) to apply the same volatility limitations to both E-10 and E-15 during the 2023 summer ozone control season to address extreme and unusual fuel supply circumstances across our nation caused by the war in Ukraine.

There is recent precedent for EPA taking such action. The agency exercised this emergency authority during the summer 2022 ozone control season and doing so achieved the desired outcome. Continued availability of E-15 throughout the summer of 2022 extended fuel supplies, helped avert potential shortages, and saved Americans at least $57 million in fuel costs. Drivers choosing E-15 saved $0.23 per gallon on average last summer, equating to $3-5 in savings per fill-up. The market conditions that justified emergency action last summer still exist today; indeed, fuel supplies are even tighter than they were a year ago and there is greater risk of disruption heading into summer. US inventories of crude oil and petroleum products recently hit a 19-year low, and nationwide gasoline stocks are 3 percent lower than a year ago. Gasoline futures prices are up roughly 15 percent in just the last two weeks; and with a larger-than-usual amount of refining capacity offline for maintenance, supplies and prices could experience greater pressure as summer approaches.

These are the same sort of circumstances that led EPA to issue emergency waivers last year. Consumers, fuel retailers, ethanol producers, and farmers need certainty. We urge the EPA to act immediately to ensure lowercost E-15 remains available in the marketplace this summer. We thank you again for granting our proposal and appreciate your consideration of our request.

Sincerely,

Kim Reynolds, Governor of Iowa Jim Pillen, Governor of Nebraska Tim Walz, Governor of Minnesota Kristi Noem, Governor of South Dakota
